- ☐ Your body feels like it's running on emergency power. You know logically that you...
- ☐ I told myself this was normal. New parents don't sleep, right?
- ☐ Use this checklist to see if you're experiencing hypervigilance.
- ☐ Do you feel "on alert" even when there's nothing to be alert about?
- ☐ Do small sounds cause a physical startle response (racing heart, adrenaline spike)?
- ☐ Can you not sleep even when the baby is asleep and you're exhausted?
- ☐ Do you find yourself constantly checking the baby, the doors, the windows—repeatedly?
- ☐ Does your body feel tense most of the day?
- ☐ Do you feel like you can't fully relax your muscles?
- ☐ Is your mind racing with worst-case scenarios?
- ☐ Do you feel like you're "waiting for something to go wrong"?
- ☐ Birth triggers a ancient mammalian response: new baby, high danger. Your nervous system fl...
